

This anti-Kerry special that Sinclair Broadcasting is forcing their stations to broadcast during prime time couldn't be characterized as anything except an hour-long propaganda-type campaign commercial. This would cost the Bush campaign multi millions of dollars to buy, so it is an in-kind contribution to the Bush campaign. If the campaign does not reimburse Sinclair, then both should go to jail. If not, Sinclair would have to also put on an hour or longer anti-Bush campaign commercial. I believe in fairness as do most Americans. However, I'm losing confidence in the basic fairness of many institutions in the United States.
